DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-28 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: applicant's arguments are deemed persuasive and furthermore, the prior art taken alone or in combination fails to anticipate or fairly suggest the limitations of the claims, in such a manner that a rejection under 35 USC 102 or 103 would be proper. The prior art fails to teach a combination of all the claimed features as presented in independent claims 1, 24 and 28.

Specifically regarding claim 1, Saxe (4273422) teaches the state of the art of an electrophoretic medium.

But, Saxe fails to explicitly teach a combination of all the claimed features including a plurality of particles capable of moving through the fluid upon application of an electric field and a polymer essentially non-absorbing on the particles, as claimed.

Specifically regarding claim 24, Saxe (4273422) teaches the state of the art of an electrophoretic medium.

But, Saxe fails to explicitly teach a combination of all the claimed features including a plurality of particles capable of moving through the fluid upon application of an electric field and the fluid having dissolved or dispersed therein polyisobutylene having a viscosity average molecular weight in the range of about 400,000 to 1,200,000

g/mole, the polyisobutylene comprising from about 0.5 to about 2.5 percent by weight of the suspending fluid, as claimed.

Specifically regarding claim 28, Saxe (4273422) teaches the state of the art of an electrophoretic medium.

But, Saxe fails to explicitly teach a combination of all the claimed features including a plurality of particles capable of moving through the fluid upon application of an electric field and the fluid having dissolved or dispersed therein a polymer being substantially free from ionic or ionizable groups in the suspending fluid, the polymer being present in the suspending fluid in a concentration of from about  $0.5 [\eta]^{-1}$  to about  $2.0 [\eta]^{-1}$ , as claimed.

As allowable subject matter has been indicated, applicant's reply must either comply with all formal requirements or specifically traverse each requirement not complied with. See 37 CFR 1.111(b) and MPEP § 707.07(a).

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
